Co-curricular Activities

The curriculum is enhanced by a vibrant, wide-ranging co-curricular programme which provides a broad curriculum offer and supports student wellbeing.

There are co-curricular opportunities spanning across all curriculum areas so there really is something for all.

Sixth form students are encouraged to take a lead on developing the co-curricular opportunities that are right for them or creating their own, e.g The HighFliers Programme, Sports Clubs(Netball) or MEDSOC Society.

Top 5 Benefits of Co-Curricular Activities for Students

Expectations

Attendance & punctuality

Application to study

the younger students.

Effort

Proactive students

Homework & Independent Study

A Level students who gain 3 A/A*s tend to complete 30 hours of independent study a week

Top 5 Tips for A Level Success

1. Know the Spec Inside Out

- ✓ Use it as a checklist to guide study & revision.

2. Use Active Recall

- ✓ Flashcards, past paper Qs, blurting > rereading notes.

3. Do Past Papers Religiously

- ✓ Practice under timed conditions & mark with official schemes, read examiners reports.

4. Target Weak Areas

- ✓ Keep a "mistake log" & revisit topics you struggle with.

5. Be Consistent, Not Last-Minute

- ✓ Follow a timetable & revise in short, focused sessions.

Feels unachievable?

1. If you have a part-time job, are you working too many hours?
2. Make a timetable for independent study and gradually increase the hours. If you are nowhere near 30 hours, start with 10 and work your way up to thirty over the course of a month (November mocks are the first milestone).

Testing and Retrieval

Students will have exams in November and March.

Unofficial overview

"Oxford Brookes is spread across three suburban campuses in Oxford and the small university city has a friendly feel. Oxford Brookes pioneered the modular system of study and the academic year is split into two semesters rather than three terms. The university has a strong reputation for sport, and there are also strong links with industry. Despite the fact that the city is tiny, nightlife is lively and students enjoy studying here."
